Proteomic Forum

Welcome to the HUPO 4th Annual World Congress First Newsletter. As you may know from previous HUPO congresses, each newsletter issue is designed to bring you the latest congress developments, with a special focus on the science presented and the scientists that will make this "The Can't Miss Congress" of the year.

The Human Proteome Organisation (HUPO) is excited to invite you to attend and actively participate in one of the most exciting scientific programs in Proteomics. We are confident that the HUPO 4th Annual World Congress will be a great success, providing you with the opportunity to learn and to network with leading investigators from around the world. Be sure to bookmark your agenda today!

Congress OrganizersAngelika Görg, Congress Co-Chair

Sunday, August 28, 2005

Pre-Congress Educational Program

- Gel Methods (2DE etc.), Non-Gel Methods, Mass Spectrometry, Bioinformatics

Monday, August 29, 2005

- HUPO Initiatives
- Plenary Lectures - Clinical Proteomics
- Exhibits/Lunch Sponsored Seminars and Poster Viewing
- Concurrent Sessions - Clinical Proteomics, Structural Proteomics, Metabolomics
- Concurrent Sessions - Clinical Proteomics II, Nano/Array Technology, Process Biotechnology

Tuesday, August 30, 2005

- Honorary Session - Pioneers of Proteomics: P. O'Farrell, J. Fenn, F. Hillenkamp, A. Bairoch
- Plenary Lectures - Proteomics Technologies
- Exhibits/Lunch Sponsored Seminars and Poster Viewing
- Concurrent Sessions - Methods, Bioinformatics Standards/Databases, Organellae
- Concurrent Sessions - News Corner, Doctor's Office I: 2D/DIGE, Doctor's office II: Mass Spectrometry.

Wednesday, August 31, 2005

- Plenary Lectures - Subproteomes/PTMs
- Plenary Lectures - Model Organisms
- Exhibits/Lunch Sponsored Seminars and Poster Viewing
- Concurrent Sessions - Clinical Proteomics III, Microbial Proteomes, HUPO Initiatives
- Concurrent Sessions - Clinical Proteomics IV, Plant Proteomes, HUPO Initiatives

Thursday, September 1, 2005

- Plenary Lectures - Interaction Proteome I
- Plenary Lectures - Interaction Proteome II
- Plenary Lectures - Systems Biology
